Join 4-player leagues in 1-vs-1, 2-vs-2, and 3-vs-3! You can also join a 4-player league in a Double Dynasty setup! You can also join teams to compete with other professional teams! In the next game we will introduce new characters with specific skills. Unbeatable The Unbeatable is a dark wizard. He has all the odds, and you need all your skill to defeat him. In the race, he hides inside a blind spot, near his allies. This way, he can't be seen by the opponents. He can also hack the base, locking himself inside and kill you all, the defenders of the base. This is the most dangerous character, as he has 99 defenses, meaning he can prevent you from entering the base. If you manage to get inside the base, however, he will have no way to hurt you. This guy is one of the best defensive characters, who can stop an army in its track with a few maneuvers. Triangle The Triangle is a magician. He uses special skills to knock down and pick up the opponents. The magical dishes that he is carrying around and that keep falling to the ground will help him in his task. He has special skills to teleport around the map. He is also very cunning, and can take down all the defenders. The Triangle is a very weak character, but

The main story is now on an almost three year tangent, and has spread over the continent. Now requires from the player more exploration and travelling to find all NPCs and corresponding story-line items. With the addition of new NPC friends, and the return of old characters, spreading out the story line was a welcome decision by the author!

New Save feature: play over the last session.

It may come as a surprise to many of us that this game features session saves. A worry for the author. The worry is that just because I save right after an hour play, it could have meant a death in ten minutes.

New Party System: can play as a single player without waiting for others.

This is something I have always wanted in this game, and perhaps this is the first time that I am grateful that I have this option! I have almost always been playing solo and that was the way I always have wanted to play this game. I have always enjoyed it, but this has never been possible before. This is what makes this game innovative, and though I dislike the need to search for a mate, it gives a good perspective of what a traditional character-driven RPG would be like. So if you want that solo option, it is worth picking this up to try it out. However, be aware that you will have to cast lots of characters, and resurrect them, which sucks a lot of time away.

New dice rolling: learn to roll and use the random numbers option.

The option to roll your own d20 is a great option, and

About this Game: Warbox is a first-person tactical shooter game that focuses on realistic combat gameplay with intelligent AI. Players are able to watch the battles happen as they control any soldier they like. A built-in faction and customization system allows players to design their own factions and soldiers based on the experience they want. Players are then able to define roles and permissions for each soldier just like a real squad. The scenario editors let players create new skirmishes and share them with the community. New modern weapons like the SAR-21 assault rifle are also available to be researched and added to the game. Weapons are designed and optimized for their respective factions and the game’s weapon crafting system lets players mix and match component parts to create new weapons. A new progression system allows players to upgrade any of the weapons and visual effects. Key Game Features: ► AI - Intelligent AI makes Warbox a unique first person shooter. The AI's decision making, targeting, grenade throwing, weapons accuracy and more are all based on the player's input. This lets you completely customize the AI for the battles you want. AI are designed to learn from the player's actions to ensure the best combat experience possible. ► Control - In Warbox, you are not just controlling the actions of each soldier in your squad, but you are also controlling their minds. A built-in threat meter is used to determine if the soldier is hurt or is in danger. When this meter is full, the soldier may panic and drop their weapon, cause them to perform a self-harm action, or even get into a fight with another soldier. Each soldier has a different "mind" that will act differently in these situations. ► Scenarios - Each Warbox scenario can be played alone or cooperatively in any mode, allowing players to create their own stories with friends and strangers alike. The sandbox mode and scenario editor lets players build their own scenarios to share with the community. ► Multiplayer - Players can take advantage of the built in matchmaking system to find matches for 1v1, 2v2 or Team Deathmatch. 2v2 is the default match and is appropriate for most scenarios. Players can also join their friends or quickly search for random players in other games. ► Equipment Crafting - Forge weapons on the spot with the new weapon crafting system. There are over 350 components to choose from. Each component can be quickly and easily combined to create an entire arsenal of weapons. The weapons can be used in c9d1549cdd
