I am trying to get some json files for a project I am working on. The files are being served via curl, just can't find the right format to send the json-parameter with the request. I am using: file_get_contents(""); But how can I do this with curl? The script I am writing is just a wrapper for the php file_get_contents-function. So if I could have it done with curl, that would be perfect! A: You can use this code snippet:

```
$curl_request = curl_init(); curl_setopt($curl_request, CURLOPT_HEADER, FALSE);
curl_setopt($curl_request, CURLOPT_RETURNTRANSFER, TRUE);
curl_setopt($curl_request, CURLOPT_URL, ""); $curl_response = curl_exec($curl_request);
curl_close($curl_request); echo ""; print_r(json_decode($curl_response));
